I found the local Greyhound work to be challenging and endeavoured to understand the aetiology, location and required treatment for the variety of muscle and ligament injuries that Greyhounds constantly sustain. This started a long journey, developing my canine Chiropractic methodology, from observation of Human Chiropractors and also Greyhound “Muscle Men” and by trial and error.

1985 – 87 Small Animal Practice at Rowville, Victoria (Mainly Greyhounds)

1988 – 90 Research with Enzacor Pty Ltd, a pharmaceutical company where I helped to develop a product to treat neonatal piglet diarrhoea (the product made use of the enzyme Bromelin which is found in pineapples).

1991-2004 Established the Canine Sports Medicine Clinic (Narre Warren and Dandenong) with the late Dr Alex Hauler and together we further developed Canine Chiropractic techniques.

2004 – Ongoing. Moved the Canine Sports Medicine to Cranbourne South, where I practice alone, consulting with greyhounds and Show dogs, plus dogs referred by other Veterinarians, using a combination of Chiropractic, Acupuncture and Trigger Point therapy on Lameness and Musculo-skeletal disorders. I also now spend some time mentoring other fellow professionals who are interested in my field of work and wish to observe my techniques.

Completed the IVAS course, in 2007. Presented a 3 day seminar on “Acupuncture Balance Methods” with Dr. Ferguson and Dr J. Katakasi at Two Wells S.A.

I was Foundation Secretary of the Australian Greyhound Veterinary Association and received an award at the 2015 Annual General Meeting, in recognition of my service to the Greyhound Industry.
