

Dr. Elissa Marriott, BVSc, CVA(IVAS)
Tutor

Dr. Marriott graduated from Melbourne University in 2008 and worked in small animals practice between raising 4 children with her husband and dog, Trooper. Dr. Marriott undertook the IVAS Acupuncture course in 2012, after feeling that western medicine wasn't a complete picture for many of her clients.

Acupuncture, and later herbal medicine, extended her therapeutic range and now Dr. Marriott specialises predominately with greyhounds and working dogs. Dr. Marriott feels honoured to support her patients and is a caring practitioner. She is humbled to help the new students undertake the next Australian College of Veterinary Acupuncture IVAS course and believes the world needs a greater range of dual-qualified practitioners to support our fur-babies!
